

Title of invention: "SJB Pocket"

Name of inventor: Stuart James Bartle

Hidden Zipper/Button-fly Garment Pocket

ABSTRACT

A light weight pocket which is designed for holding money, keys, anything valuable or small in size that the wearer may wish to hide/conceal. This pocket is oriented in such a position as to be aligned behind the front zipper or button fly of pant.

DESCRIPTION

TECHNICAL FIELD

This invention relates to a garment of the casual wear: pants, short's/briefs, underwear. The invention provides for carrying and hiding things from money, keys, valuables or anything you would normally put in a standard pants pocket.

DISCLOSURE OF THE INVENTION

In order to overcome the difficulties of other pocket's in pants, the present invention provides a highly improved security hideaway pocket, most likely a place that won't be searched.

The first SJB pocket is a hide away pocket used behind the front pant zipper. The pocket is made out of a muslin cotton fabric, cut and designed to be used as a hide away crotch pocket. Each point on both sides of pocket are sewn on the inseam of zipper, down to bottom and up to opposite side to create the pocket. The top sides of the pocket and the top of the pocket are left unsewn. There are two snaps on the top back side of the pocket, one on each crease where the pocket folds. The male part of snap is on the pocket, the female part of snap is on the pants. The snaps are used for support both when zipper is open or closed.

The second SJB pocket is used in underwear/boxer's/briefs, where there is a button fly opening. The pocket is a square piece of muslin fabric, with a quarter inch at end pulled in to form a pocket. This pocket is sewn behind the button fly opening all around edges and has no snaps.

The third SJB pocket is the outside back pants pocket. What makes this pocket entirely different from any other outside back pants pocket is this one is three times longer. This invention provides extra deep pocket space to hold items like a long Liter bottle of water. There is no picture for the second and third invention, seeing as though there self explanatory.

Title of invention: SJB pocket
Name of inventor: Stuart James Bartle

THE BEST MODE FOR CARRYING OUT THE INVENTION

A front hide away pocket used behind the front zipper or button fly (buttons used to open and close front of pants) of pants placed in the groin area according to the invention illustrates in FIG.1 with detailed views in FIGS. 2, 3, and 4.

In the present invention, FIG. 1, each point on both sides of the pocket are stitched on the inseam of the zipper, down to the bottom, up to the opposite side to create the pocket. The top sides of the pocket and the top of the pocket are left un sewn to allow for normal function of pants to be opened and closed.

Referring now to FIG. 1, the front of pocket is opened and taught, as if the pants zipper was unzipped or unbuttoned and opened. The dash lines indicate where both sides fold in when opening zipper/button fly or closing of pants.

Referring now to FIG. 2, the back side of pocket is opened flat and illustrates the snaps #1, and the dash lines where it folds as depicted in FIG.1. Referring now to FIG. 3, the front of pocket is flat where one side is folded in, and FIG.4 shows both sides are folded in. When the pants are opened, the snaps are intact to reinforce the pocket to be used. The purpose of the snaps is for the pocket to be taught when putting in your items, and to unsnap the snaps when taking off the pants.

Title of invention: SJB pocket
Name of inventor: Stuart James Bartle

DESCRIPTION OF DRAWINGS

EMBODIMENT'S

FIG. 1 is a perspective view illustrating the front view of the pocket. Flat and opened. This would be when the zipper or button fly of pant is unzipped and opened. The dash lines indicate where both sides fold in as if the zipper/button fly is zipped up and closed.

FIG. 2 is the back view illustrating the button snaps #1. Flat and opened.

FIG. 3 is the front view illustrating flat and one side folded in.

FIG. 4 is the front view illustrating both sides folded in, as if the pants were closed and zipped up.